Refurbishment of the University of Sunderland's Murray Library.

The supply and installation of floor finishes to the refurbished main University library and new café area.

In Summary

As part of a major refurbishment of the primary University library and creation of a new café, Durastic was contracted to install various types of floor finishes to the following areas:

- Internet café bistro and kitchen
- Entrance and circulation corridor
- Reception / foyer
- Main library

Key Business Results

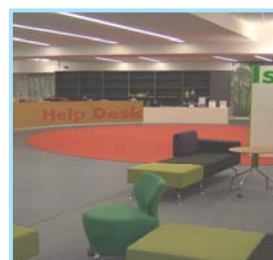

- Cost & time efficient
- Minimal environmental impact
- All works completed without accident, injury or environmental impact
- Completed work scope within timescale
- Comprehensive technical and decorative advisory service for all materials and colours, complementing client's corporate image

Benefits

- Materials used for these areas offer long term durability, excellent slip resistance and have surface bacteriostat incorporated
- Altro D25 was chosen for safety flooring in the kitchen, prep area and counter servery
- Marmoleum "real" was installed into high foot traffic area, offering excellent wear characteristics and appearance retention
- Two different types of floor covering were installed, incorporating a feature design within the reception area to match the overall colour scheme
